Optimize Your Hybrid Cloud Workforce with Flexible Work-From-Home Policies and Monitor

This webinar covers research which explores both the employee and employer perspective of working from home and the role of monitors in improving user productivity and experience. We will review how employees are managing this abrupt change to their work lives amid equally disruptive changes to their daily lives, and how organizations can support these new ways of working by provisioning the right IT tools including monitors.

Download this webinar from Dell Technologies and Microsoft to learn more.