

Beyond the Dashboard: Answer any question about your data in minutes.

Traditional dashboards are wonderful for high-level overviews and easily digestible information. They're not great for getting the information you need to make decisions. Or, they weren't.

This e-book shows you a new way to automatically generate dashboards that anyone can use to:

- Surface hidden insights, outliers, and trends
- Answer questions about numbers during meetings.
- Make decisions that lead to results.
- All without needing to know how to code or analyzing the data yourself.
