

Clean Start supports Iron Mountain's own workplace evolution

Driven by changing employee needs and our own evolving workplace strategy, Iron Mountain worked to optimize and modernize their Boston office space. Iron Mountain's own Clean Start solution played a key role in helping to reduce space, eliminate clutter, enhance internal collaboration, and drive sustainability as they worked to complete project execution. Watch the video that takes you "behind the scenes" of the project and learn how Clean Start can help support secure and efficient workplace transformation.
