

Event-driven automation

Event-driven automation can help organizations achieve their innovation goals by automating routine and repetitive tasks that interfere with top priorities.