

HOW LOCAL EXPERTISE IS SHAPING THE GLOBAL FREIGHT FORWARDING INDUSTRY

Local knowledge is the difference maker for scaling a business into new markets and maintaining profitability. DP World, with its presence and expertise across six continents, has launched a freight forwarding service that can give you that required insight. With DP World, that knowledge of international markets combines with a digital first approach and specialist logistics know-how to give you the upper hand when entering new territories. To find out more about the value of local knowledge and how it can affect your business, please download our infographic.