

Radius Recycling & Nerdio Case Study

Discover how Radius Recycling, a major North American recycler, transitioned from Citrix to Microsoft AVD with Nerdio, enhancing their deployment efficiency and significantly reducing costs. This case study outlines the challenges they faced with their legacy system and illustrates how Nerdio's solution not only streamlined their IT operations but also supported their sustainability goals. By automating tedious tasks and optimizing resource use, Nerdio helped Radius save over $3,000 monthly and improve user experience, proving the substantial business and environmental benefits of switching to a more modern virtual desktop infrastructure.
