stc evolves multivendor telco cloud to achieve service provider goals

Cloud-native technologies support a more efficient, agile and resilient infrastructure. stc anticipates that it will accrue significant business benefits from its cloud-native telco cloud development. Stc is Saudi Arabia's leading digital services provider and as such, will play a vital role in the country's Vision for 2030. Download this Analysys Mason and stc solution analyst perspective that discusses the evolution of how multivendor telco cloud environments are used to achieve service provider goals.