

The State of Beverage Alcohol Tax Compliance

The beverage alcohol industry has grown exponentially in recent decades. Leading research firm Potentiate, in partnership with Avalara, led a market study to find out how wineries, breweries, distilleries, and retailers are managing compliance. This report shares key insights to help companies learn how their peers manage tax compliance to better inform their own strategies.